

Massive eruption

On the 24 of August ad 79, Mount Vesuvius erupted in an explosion the Pompeii citizens didn't notice anything at first but second caused all of Pompeii to be covered in a thick layer of ash. You should care tons bit the dust literally.

It was a massive city it was covered in 9 meter of thick ash .it was dug up in the 19 century and found in 17 century. It was in the bay of Naples

The ground shook heavily and they thought it was an earth quake. They were wrong. Also some hid in bulling that were all shapes a2d sizes

It started raining ash from the sky also while there was a pyroclastic flow people started screaming as black smoke hurdled in the air.

There was chaos round the streets as the pyroclastic flow buried people alive some people hid

Some escaped some died some unfortunately died but Pompeii was courted in a thick layer of ash most people and animals died.

It was found in the 17 century please visit archly it was dug up in the 19 century you can visit now.
